

JAP IMMIGRATION BOBS UP AGAIN TO WORRY DIPLOMATS

House Committee Divided
To Point Where Change
Is Being Held Up.

SEEKING TO BAR JAPS FROM U. S.

Agree To Restrict To Two Per Cent All Immigration To Us.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Japanese immigration, a tender subject between the United States and Japan for a score of years, has again cropped up to plague the diplomats of both countries and today has divided the house immigration committee to a point where changes in the present three per cent law are being held up.

A majority of the committee favors writing into the law a provision excluding Japanese from admission into United States territory. This was to be accomplished indirectly by providing that only those aliens eligible to citizenship should be admitted. The United States supreme court held in recent decision that Japanese were not of the white race and were not eligible to citizenship under federal law.

The state department objected to migration law. It was feared it might bring to a head the slumbering issue with Japan, and interfere with diplomatic negotiations to adjust the matter smoothly and without bitter feeling or animosities. The majority of the committee wants to go ahead despite the warnings of the state department diplomats, but are held back by the more cautious members.

Tentative agreement has been reached by the committee to reduce the immigration restriction to two per cent and base quotas on the 1890 census, as at present. Irrespective of the quotas, it is planned to admit the father, mother, husband or wife, brothers and sisters and minor children of naturalized citizens and aliens who have applied for naturalization and a minimum quota of 400 for every country from which eligible aliens are entitled to come.

This change in law, it is estimated, would permit of about the same total of immigrants as at present, about 360,000, but would give the larger quotas to the countries of northern Europe and would take care of new states created as a result of the recent war and of old states from which the immigration has been light during the past 30 years.

OHIO SPORTSMEN WATCH NEW BILL

Measure Provides That No Adult Can Fish Without License.

Columbus, Jan. 30.—Sportsmen throughout Ohio are anxiously watching the progress of the anglers' license bill, now before the legislature, which provides that no person over the age of 19 shall fish in Ohio waters, without first having procured a license costing 50 cents, the money derived from the license fees to be used in building hatcheries, clearing up polluted streams, and making better fishing in all parts of the state.

This is not a tax for the privilege of going fishing, it is a system whereby each fisherman may contribute a small sum to help restock Ohio streams and lakes, without burden to the taxpayers. There are at least 400,000 fishermen who are taking from Ohio waters from year to year; more hatcheries must be built, and the work of restocking extended in order to prevent Ohio waters from being depleted, according to A. C. Baxter, chief of the Division of Fish and Game. The fishing license means better fishing for everyone, and the clearing up of hundreds of miles of polluted streams. To date, the work of restocking and building of hatcheries has been paid by the hunters and trappers through their license money.

"Any fisherman who believes unselfishly in conservation should be willing to contribute 50 cents per year, to help replace the fish he takes from the waters, and to insure good fishing for little folks now growing up, and for future generations," Baxter says.

This bill has been endorsed not only by the League of Ohio Sportsmen, representing 150,000 sportsmen of Ohio, but also by the State Game and Fish Bureau, as a necessary constructive measure.

Gee With Orchestra To Play For Radio

Ralph Gee, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Gee of Pittsburgh and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Kirby of Salem, is making a hit with Lazaro's orchestra of Pittsburgh, rated as one of the best in the Pittsburgh district. This orchestra has been secured to give special recitals at radio station WCAE, Pittsburgh. The first concert probably will be given this week.

Mr. Gee was graduated from Salem High school and played in Quaker City band and Salem orchestra.

Anti-Saloon League Head Facing Charges.

William H. Anderson

William H. Anderson, for nine years head of the New York State Anti-Saloon league and one of the bitterest opponents of the "wet," faces serious charges that have been made to the district attorney of New York city. The allegations were made by a former financial solicitor for the league who asserts Anderson forced him to "split" his commissions; that Anderson drew $15,000 a year salary instead of the $10,000 he claimed—his lawful salary—and committed other financial irregularities. Anderson replied that the entire charge is "a species of blackmail and extortion" on the part of his enemies.

OHIO SENATE GETS TWO RESOLUTIONS ON FOREIGN POLICY

One Urges Harding To Act,
Other Expresses Confidence In Him.

Columbus, Jan. 30.—Two resolutions dealing with this nation's foreign policy are scheduled to come up for consideration in the senate here today.

One is the Burke resolution requesting President Harding to call an international conference on economic problems with a view to preventing another World war.

The other is the Herbert resolution which was adopted 69 to 0 by the house late yesterday, expressing confidence in the president's foreign policy and declaring that the Ohio legislature should restrict its activities to endeavors to solve state problems.

The senate also is asked to concur in the action of the house, which by a vote of 61 to 15 adopted a resolution by Rep. Humes, Delaware county, petitioning congress to stop issuing tax free bonds and other securities.

HONOR M'KINLEY ON ANNIVERSARY

Ohio Citizens Pay Homage
To Martyred President
At Annual Banquet.

Niles, Jan. 6.—More than 500 citizens of Ohio paid homage to William McKinley, Niles' most illustrious son, at the eighth annual banquet of the Mahoning Valley McKinley club held in the McKinley Memorial auditorium here Monday evening. Prominent men in the affairs of both major parties joined in paying tribute to one of America's greatest figures. The meeting was as usual, strictly non-partisan.

Judge J. H. C. Lyon of Youngstown was toastmaster and welcomed the ladies who this year for the first time were invited to the banquet.

Mrs. Charles H. Wilkins, wife of Judge Wilkins of the common pleas court of Trumbull county, responded to the welcome. Simeon D. Fess, senator-elect, lauded highly the martyred president in the principal address of the evening. Dr. Fess paid eloquent tribute to the policies of William McKinley, and declared them to be America's greatest asset.

Fire broke out after the explosion but was subdued.

HOPE ABANDONED THAT TURKS WILL SIGN PEACE PACT

Britain Adopts Policy Of Waiting, Prepared For War Or Peace.

NATIONS LEAGUE IS URGED TO ACT

Menace Of War Emphasized
In Note To Conference
From Lord Curzon.

London, Jan. 30.—Foreign office officials today abandoned hope that Turkey will sign the Near East peace treaty presented by the allies at Lausanne. Great Britain is adopting a policy of watchful waiting, prepared either for war or peace.

There is a powerful British fleet at anchor in the Turkish strait and the British are maintaining armies at such strategic points as Constantinople, Mosul and Cheneq.

Paris, Jan. 30.—A note from Lord Curzon, British foreign secretary and head of the British delegation in the Lausanne conference, emphasizing the menace of war in the Near East, was read to the league of nations council today.

The document was transmitted to the council by Earl Balfour, who presented England's claim to the Mosul oil fields and formally requested the league to intervene in Britain's behalf.

Lord Curzon regretted that the Turks have refused so far to accept the allies' peace terms. He asked that the league of nations take up the Near East problem "actively" to prevent a recurrence of hostilities between Turkey and Greece.

Rene Viviani, former French premier, and presiding officer in the council meeting, replied that Near East peace conference is not yet completed and that "there is still hope for a happy solution." He continued:

"We most ardently wish that the world's peace not be disturbed but if a complete rupture comes at Lausanne the league will intervene to prevent war."

WOULD PUT TEETH IN BLUE SKY LAW

Bill Aimed At Swindling
Of Citizens Through Worthless Stocks.

Columbus, Jan. 30.—Initial steps to prevent swindling of thousands of Ohio citizens by promoters of worthless stocks and securities were taken when the legislature Monday night when Representative C. H. Fouts, Morgan county, introduced a measure to amend the "blue sky" laws of the state.

The Fouts bill was prepared by a committee of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce.

The measure was drawn in response to a demand that some means be devised to protect Ohio investors, other than are at present available through the existing "blue sky" department.

The demand comes from "better business" organizations and chambers of commerce throughout the state, and grew out of conditions which, in recent years, when the flood of speculation has been at high tide, have permitted unscrupulous operators and scoundrels to swindle Ohio investors out of millions.

SENATE BATTLES OVER FARM BILL

Democrats Announce Plans
To Filibuster To Get Longer Debate.

Washington, Jan. 30.—What virtually amounted to open warfare broke out afresh in the senate today. Defiantly accepting the challenge issued by administration chiefs to call a night session to speed action on the army supply bill, farm credits legislation and the ship subsidy bill, combined Progressive and Democratic forces announced the unreserved intention "to filibuster until rural relief measures have been given full and complete discussion at least 10 days or two weeks."

ROUNDUP CATCHES 40 CHIROPRACTORS

Cleveland Police Extending Net For Violators Of Medical Laws.

Cleveland, Jan. 30.—Warrant for the arrest of 40 more chiropractors were to be served today in the campaign of city police to round up violators of the state law requiring chiropractors to be licensed by the state board of medical examiners. No women were included in the list.

Counsel for A. J. Schnake, president of the Ohio Chiropractors association, who was fined $25 and costs, will file a bill of exception next week alleging the affidavit on which Schnake was arrested is invalid. Schnake's counsel contends statute 1275-1 is the only valid basis for prosecution, and that it applies only to "limited practice of medicine."

M'MASTER SPEAKS IN SALEM TONIGHT

A large attendance is expected at the January luncheon and business meeting of the Salem Chamber of Commerce at 6:30 o'clock this evening in the chamber rooms. Dr. William H. McMaster of Alliance, president of Mt. Union college, will address the gathering on "The Essentials of True Americanism," and there will be readings by Paul Drennan, instructor of public speaking in the Salem High school. Committee reports also will be presented at this time.

Oriental Employees Guests At Banquet

In the private dining room at the LaPalma restaurant, the Oriental Stores company gave a most enjoyable banquet Monday evening for their employees with Mr. and Mrs. John Melrose, Youngstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Kellar, this city, invited guests.

Places were arranged for 23 guests and the tables were made beautiful with cut flowers. A carnation was laid at each guest's place. The unique place cards were designs of a coffee box.

This banquet inaugurated the coffee selling campaign the company is putting on and talks were given explaining it to the employees. Mr. Melrose was toastmaster and there were talks by Mr. Kellar, A. H. Fultz, E. G. Heston and J. Whinnery Lease.

Bequeaths Entire Estate To Sister

Mrs. Alice T. Helman, who died two weeks ago at her home in Lisbon, left a will bequeathing her entire estate, both personal and real, to her sister, Miss Minnie Morris of Columbiana, who is now deceased. The remaining heirs to the estate are one brother, Lot Morris, near Elkton, and one nephew. The will was presented to Judge Moore in the common pleas court on Monday for admission to probate for the reason that Judge Lodge Riddle of the probate court was a subscribing witness to the will at the time that it was executed in 1913. The will was ordered probated, and certified back to the probate court for further action.

Kiwanians Plan Community Building At Leetonia

Leetonia, Jan. 30.—The Kiwanis club of Leetonia is making rapid progress in planning for the betterment of the town. Numerous plans were discussed at the meeting of the club this week which if put in action will make a decided step forward.

One of the first things discussed was that an effort shall be made to have westbound Pennsylvania trains delay in Leetonia at 6:30 a. m. and 9 p. m. be made flag stops here.

Wilbur Mellinger, Dr. S. A. Conrad and Don Hasbrouck were appointed a committee to investigate prospects for the organization of a Boy Scout troop.

The Community House subject was revived and a number of new suggestions were heard. One much favored was that the small field lying south of the Hotel Columbia and bordering on Columbia and Lisbon of this town

Mrs. Croker Reported Engaged

Mrs. Richard Croker

According to rumors that persist in Dublin, Mrs. Richard Croker, widow of the former New York city Tammany hall leader, herself an Indian princess, is to marry P. J. Field, who trained Mr. Croker's race horses on his immense Irish estate, on which he lived after his retirement from American politics. Croker died last year, and a bitter fight has been begun by his children, whom he disinherited, for a share in his estate.

Russia Pictured As Unknown Quantity

But Gen. Ludendorff Says
Germany Can't Expect
Support From Him.

Munich, Jan. 30.—"Russia is the unknown quantity in Europe, but certainly we cannot expect any support from that quarter."

This statement was made here today in the heart of German Fascism by Germany's foremost military expert, Gen. Erich Ludendorff, formerly chief of staff to Field Marshal von Hindenburg and known as the "brains of the German army."

Gen. Ludendorff said he believed that Russia would remain the "unknown quantity in Europe" until spring. Referring to the capture of the American army of occupation, the German military chief said:

"They are gone, but French influence not only upon the Rhine but throughout the European continent is tremendously strengthened. The presence of American soldiers at least has been a sort of counter balance."

At the outset, Ludendorff said, "Unless a miracle intervenes you will see the French in the Ruhr a year hence, maybe several. I have not the slightest hope of English or American intervention."

The correspondent informed the famous soldier he was leaving for

ORDER IS GIVEN TO DEPORT MANY GERMAN OFFICIALS

French Will Expel Germans
For Refusing To Give Any Assistance.

RIOTING ADMITTED, DENY MANY KILLED

French Are Annoyed Over
Failure Of Their
Ruhr Policy.

Paris, Jan. 30.—The French foreign office this afternoon admitted that rioting had taken place in the German Rhineland at Goppert, but denied a newspaper report that 20 Germans were killed.

Order To Deport Germans

Essen, Germany, Jan. 30.—Large numbers of German officials today were ordered deported from the Rhineland by the French military authorities.

The formal accusation against the Germans was disobedience, but the real reason for their expulsion was their obedience of orders from the Berlin government to give the French no assistance or information.

Gen. DeGottie issued the expulsion orders from his headquarters in Düsseldorf but it is understood here that the original suggestion came from the French general staff at Paris.

The French are annoyed and angered over the failure of their policy to produce material resources. Practically no coal is being obtained, disorders are growing, destruction of property is increasing and the passive resistance of German civilians becomes a bigger problem every day.

Additional French railway workers are arriving on the Ruhr. It is estimated that there are about 5,000 on the scene now but they are meeting with considerable resistance on the part of German railway men who refuse to co-operate with them.

The French have not attempted to requisition German labor.

TRACTION FIGHT AIRED IN COURT

East Liverpool Asks That Court Order Company
To Operate Cars.

Lisbon, Jan. 30.—Testimony was introduced in common pleas court yesterday afternoon before Judge D. Homer Graven of Ashland, presiding, in the case of the city of East Liverpool against the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company, which has for its purpose forcing the traction company to accept and operate its cars in East Liverpool under the provisions of the "award" handed down last fall by the board of arbitration.

It has developed, however, that this "award" in its true meaning is not a "finding" by such board, but an "article of agreement" duly executed and ready for the signatures of the interests involved.

It has also been declared in open court that the text of this "award" is changed but slightly from the text of the agreement between the traction company and its employees which was operative between May 1, 1921, and May 1, 1922.

The board of arbitration, which opened its hearing in the council chamber at East Liverpool last fall, was composed of James T. Kennedy, Lisbon, chairman; D. W. Davis and John Connors of Salem, with Attorney W. A. O'Grady of Wellsville, sitting in as the representative of the former traction employees.

ATTORNEYS ILL, CASES DELAYED

All criminal assignments in court room No. 1 have been set aside for this week owing to the fact that the attorneys who are to defend accused persons are ill. Atty. C. S. Speaker of Lisbon, George Davidson and Elaine Cochran of East Liverpool, and K. L. Cohorn of Salem are among those reported as ill and all are interested in cases assigned for hearing.

Charles Peese of East Liverpool and Paul Corso of East Palestine, prisoners in the county jail, are seriously ill with the "flu." A number of others who had been ill are reported better. David Eells, turnkey at the jail, who had been at home sick for some time, is back at work but is far from well.

America And Europe

IDEALISTIC Americans who have been calling upon our government to save Europe from itself ought to analyze phenomena now presented at various points on that continent; the strained relations of Hungary and Roumania, the attack upon Memel, the crisis in Anglo-Turkish affairs, as well as the conditions in Germany.

We ask these well meaning theorists what the United States could do to convince the Hungarians that they ought to resign themselves to the loss of a large territory inhabited by Hungarians, to say nothing of a strategic frontier. We ask them what we could expect to accomplish in persuading the Roumanians to give back this territory to Hungary for the sake of peace. We ask them if they would have us send soldiers to help the Lithuanians to take Memel because it is in Lithuanian territory and needed by them as an outlet to the sea, which Mr. Wilson held was the right of every inland people, or to help defend Memel from them out of respect for the so-called peace treaty and the league of nations?

The United States has money and economic resources which might be beneficial to all these nations, if they made proper use of them. We are told also that we have moral influence. But the former cannot be made effective unless the latter is, and we ask if common sense offers us any encouragement to hope that we can persuade nations which evidently are willing to endure the miseries of renewed war in the pursuit of their ends to forego these ends at our behest upon any terms we are able to offer them?

What can we offer the Lithuanians in exchange for Memel, or the Roumanians or the Hungarians in exchange for Transylvania, or the Turks or British for Mosul, if they value their possession so highly that they are willing to fight and die for them? If there is anything obvious in the world it is that the European nations value other things more than peace, the rectification of injustices, as each sees them, the acquisition of territory, etc. Those Americans who think peace in Europe depends upon our intervention should explain what we can and ought to offer to throw the balance of policy toward peace against the heavy weight of considerations cherished passionately by the warring nations.

Union Of Husbands

A CHICAGO man is out with the demand for another union. He sets forth his reasons in answering his wife's suit for divorce. He asserts that he earned $150 a month, but that his wife allowed him only 50 cents a day, keeping the remainder. Thus he is permitted to squander $15 every 30 days on car fare, tobacco, etc., while she appropriates $135.

So the aggrieved husband has formulated a plan for a union of husbands, with a definite wage scale and the strike as a weapon against oppression.

Probably out of the $135 retained by the wife all is "velvet" after the household expenses have been paid. Little things like house rent, grocers' bills, laundry, etc., taken in the aggregate, however, might cost as much as $120 a month, leaving her only $15.

If the wife, complainant in this divorce suit, had been making ends meet on her husband's salary, after allowing him 50 cents a day, the court probably will learn that she is an efficiency expert. We are not told on what she bases her complaint, but it's possible that its predication on the allegation that her husband expects her to perform the impossible.

The school boy has begun to play his favorite game of marbles. The last two days numbers of the lads could be seen playing the game.

The year 1903 has started out at a record-breaking rate for railroad disasters.

A number of robins were seen about the city Thursday. That day thermometers were as high as 50 degrees above zero. This morning it was 24 above and a high wind raged all night.

HEADS PARDONS AND PAROLES

Thompson of Coshocton Receives the Appointment.

MAY PROVE ONLY TEMPORARY

Legislature Said to Regard With Favor Donahay's Plan For Creation of a Separate Board of Pardons. Common Pleas Judges Would Cut Out Red Tape In Criminal Procedure—Measures Before Solons.

Columbus, Jan. 30.—Welfare Director John Harper announced the appointment of D. O. Thompson of Coshocton as superintendent of pardons and paroles. Mr. Thompson has for years been successfully engaged in the mercantile business at Coshocton and will succeed the late General W. T. McMakin, whose death occurred at his home in Toledo recently.

Director Harper, in announcing the appointment, said that Mr. Thompson has accepted the temporary appointment, indicating that the recommendation of Governor Donahay to the legislature for the creation of a separate board of pardons and paroles, outside of welfare department employees, would be carried out by the legislature.

Mr. Thompson will meet with Mrs. Elizabeth Clark and J. E. Clark, the other two members of the state parole and pardon board, Monday, and go over his new work, and Tuesday the board will go to the Marysville reformatory, where it will hear applicants.

The new superintendent of pardons and paroles will be the fourth man to have served in that capacity since the creation of the present system under the reorganization bill 18 months ago.

The new party, for which a move was launched at the convention of "Committee of 48" followers here, will function in Ohio as the "Progressive" party.

Before closing the conference delegates formed the nucleus of a state organization, naming E. B. Lane of Toledo as acting chairman. Other members are: Mrs. Harriet Schwartz, Columbus, acting chairman; H. R. Veris, Middletown; S. B. Coleman, Oberlin; Dr. F. W. Walz, Cleveland; and J. H. Leatherman, Wadsworth.

It is planned to continue organization of the committee until all of the 88 counties are represented. Other states are to be similarly organized in advance of a national convention, at which effort will be made to consolidate the progressive and liberal movements in various states into one party for the 1924 campaign.

The conference here endorsed the platform of the "Committee of 48," which declares for public control of natural resources, public ownership of transportation and communication lines, and equal economic, legal, civil and political rights for all citizens.

At its meeting here the State Association of Common Pleas Judges of Ohio adopted a comprehensive legislative program designed to cut out much of the "red tape" in criminal procedure and will recommend to the legislature that laws and amendments to the criminal code be passed to carry out the suggested changes. It was urged in a resolution that the governor appoint a nonpartisan commission of three lawyers and judges and two laymen to revise the code of criminal procedure with a view to eliminating "red tape," various causes of delays and conflicting sentences.

Among other changes approved by the judges and which will be recommended at the present session of the legislature is one which would make it possible to try jointly defendants in criminal cases, except capital cases, who are charged with the same crime. This, it was pointed out, would eliminate great public expense in trying several defendants individually on the same charge, and would also serve to speed up court procedure considerably.

Another recommendation is to speed up the work of securing juries, doing away with much of the "red tape" now connected with that procedure, by making it possible for the court to order a venire of from 36 to 75 drawn and from that list select the jury without further routine. This is designed to provide greater speed, especially in the larger counties where criminal work is heavy and a venire is quickly exhausted.

The judges' association elected these officers: Judge James W. Tarbell, Georgetown, president; Judge Chauncey L. Newcomer, Bryan, and Judge Charles E. Close, Upper Sandusky, vice presidents; Judge Willard J. Wright, Lebanon, secretary; Judge R. L. Cameron, Marysville, treasurer.

More than 60 county prosecutors attended the annual meeting of the Prosecuting Attorneys' Association of Ohio held here in connection with the Ohio State Bar association meeting. Four-year term for prosecutors; salaries that will allow them to devote their entire time to their duties and authorization of the issue of subpoenas by prosecutors, were chief among the subjects discussed. Election of officers resulted as follows: President, Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton of Cuyahoga county; vice president, Charles S. Bell of Hamilton county; treasurer, Prosecuting Attorney Doyle of Summit county; secretary, John R. King, Franklin county. A resolution fostered by Representative Kasch, Democrat, of Akron, proposes submitting to the voters a constitutional amendment to provide four-year terms for governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer and attorney general. The proposal, although by a Democratic representative, is almost identical with recommendations made by Governor Davis in his message to the legislature a week before he retired from office. Davis urged that the term be lengthened in order to permit an elected official to devote his entire time to his duties instead of having to start campaigning for re-election after holding office a year, as happens under the present two-year term system. The state auditor is the only elective state executive officer who has a four-year term.

Another election reform bill has been introduced in the house. Representative McDonald of Montgomery county launched a proposal to hold primary elections the second Tuesday in September, except in presidential election years, when the time would be the last Tuesday in April. McDonald would also require candidates in filing declarations of candidacy to give their age, sex, business and professional qualifications, as well as details to their residence. All of this could be printed on the ballot in the discretion of the election board.

Resolutions providing for legislative committees to investigate the state serum plant and the state serum farms are fathered by Representative Cooley of Cleveland. These resolutions follow the recommendations made by Governor Donahay in his first message.

A bill by Senator Atwood of Franklin county that would permit city sinking fund trustees to buy bonds of their own city in installments as the money is needed for the work for which the bonds were issued, is before the house, having been passed by the senate. Atwood's bill is designed to save a city a considerable part of interest charges now paid on bonds.

A measure designed to safeguard the rights of missing persons, so that in event they reappear in a reasonable time, it would be possible for them to recover their estates, was passed by the senate. The bill is by Senator Gifford of Lucas, and it would declare legally dead persons whose whereabouts have been unknown for seven years and providing for the administration of the estates of such persons.

In urging the abolition of the directorship in the welfare department, established two years ago, and the restoration of the bipartisan board system of control of the various state institutions, the latter dating back to the time of Governor Harmon, in 1911, Governor Donahay expressed the belief in his second message that no one man possesses all the qualifications necessary to single-handed conduct of the institutions and that "the best solution lies in the restoration of a bipartisan board of members appointed for definite terms, of which not more than one is to expire in any one year." Such a plan would give the board an experienced membership at all times and would enable it "to carry on a continuity of policy and to stabilize the caprice of new members," the message averred. The governor also urged the restoration of the separate purchasing department, formerly a part of the board of administration plan; enlargement of the state brick plant and construction of a cement plant; enlargement of the Orient institution for feeble-minded; construction of welfare buildings by the welfare department; the use of the Columbus penitentiary for hardened criminals only and employment of other prisoners in manufacture of foodstuffs and road building materials in capacity measure at the London prison farm.

Two members of the Eighty-fifth assembly, elected last November, have never qualified for their seats because of illness. One of these, Senator W. A. Clark of Urbana, representing the combined Eleventh and Twelfth districts, may not be able to attend the sessions at all. The other, Mrs. Lulu T. Gleason, representative from Lucas county, expects to be able to take her seat next week.

Senator Clark is suffering from a throat infection developing as the result of tonsillitis and influenza. Mrs. Gleason has been suffering from a nervous breakdown, but is reported convalescing. She became ill upon her return from the national convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union at Philadelphia, antedating the opening of the general assembly.

If the legislature passes the bill of Representative Veigel of Henry county, surpluses in municipal utility funds could be used for general operating purposes.

Representative Bloom of Sandusky county is the author of a bill to amend the Bing compulsory education law by modifying and liberalizing the terms of employment certificates and allowing county boards of education to require the assistant county superintendent to act as attendance officer.

KEARNS PLANS FOR DEMPSEY BATTLES

Bout With Willard Is First On Program Of Promoter.

New York, Jan. 30.—The Dempsey-Willard enterprise to be held under the benign patronage of Tex Rickard at Jersey City; Dempsey vs survivor of the Johnson-Gibbons-Firpo elimination series at the Polo grounds in mid-summer and the Dempsey-Willis bout to go to Harry Frazee, or sponsors, at the Yankee stadium late in the fall.

These are the plans being carried around, carelessly as it were, in the mind of Jack Kearns, according to the latest reports, alleged to come from the best authority. They are said to be the outcome of Kearns' determination to divide the risk and at the same time, hurry off home with the largest available purses. He seems to feel that no one promoter can conduct all three bouts and make real money for Jack Kearns. Therefore, he would put that abiding responsibility up to three men, so that he can work out his own little problem without thought of worry of future bouts.

All of them, of course, will find it necessary to show financial responsibility if they wish to do business with Jack Kearns. This will be acceptable assurances that the site is acceptable and official interference improbable. Rickard can qualify here. He is supposed to get the first big date, largely because he seems to have the Willard complex, and no one, outside of Tom O'Rourke is particularly interested. Kearns, it is said, feels that opposition to Willard's return to the ring will be less enthusiastic if it can be shown that Dempsey is meeting all comers and is only taking Willard in midstride. At any rate, it is certain that Willard would be shouted down if he tried to get on with the champion after the latter had given him rough, dry treatment to Willard and others.

THEATRES

State Theater

To millions of book readers and playgoers the detective story is the most thrilling and fascinating of novels or plays; to tens of millions of newspaper readers the latest developments of a big crime story are the liveliest and most irritable of items. A still wider audience for the unfolding of tales of crime and its detection is the motion picture which numbers its devotees by the hundreds of millions. At last the screen has had a great detective story filmed. It is the Goldwyn picture, "Sherlock Holmes," in which John Barrymore, gifted stage and screen player, is starred. It was shown last night for the first time in Salem at the State theater and it is safe to predict that before the photoplay is laid aside literally hundreds of millions will have seen it. It ran at the Cameo theater, New York, for more than three months.

No one who goes at all to the "movies" should miss seeing "Sherlock Holmes." It entertains and thrills and is a thoroughly satisfying entertainment.

A good sized audience witnessed the initial performance of Eddie Ford's Synopated Steppers Monday night at the Grand theater. The company, with a cast of 10 people, presented their farce comedy "Remodeling a Husband."

The cast includes Eddie Ford, the "Original Drunk," of the Grace Cameron show; Arthur Linn, also a Canadian performer; Blanche Nettleton formerly of the Harry Tate "Hello Canada" shows; Louis Leonard of the Bon Glazer Stock Co.; Marie Vermillion, formerly with William Farnum in stock productions; Billie Vermillion, former headliner at the Terrace Garden, Chicago and billed as America's foremost juvenile baritone.

Tuesday night the company presents "The Runaway Match" a farce comedy dealing with intermarriages and Wednesday night the New York hit, "Fair and Warner" will be presented as the closing number.

Five "Synopated Steppers" make up a well drilled chorus.

PROPOSE REVISION OF HIGHWAY LAWS

Measure To Be Offered Will Provide New State Road System.

Columbus, Jan. 30.—Attempt at revision of state highway laws is to be made by the legislature, through introduction of a bill by Rep. John T. Brown, Republican, Champaign county, chairman of the highway committee of the house, it was announced Monday. The proposed bill, it is understood, will endeavor to establish a system of state roads to replace the present system of partially constructed and improved highways.

The bill will provide: 1—Direction to the department of highways to take over for maintenance all the highway in the two systems of main market roads and intercounty highways.

2—A gasoline and fuel tax on all materials used in internal combustion motor vehicles but with exemption from the tax of all gasoline used in industries, arts or agriculture.

3—Readjustment of the present schedule of assessments against abutting property owners with provision for retroactive relief to land owners who have suffered keenly from excessive assessments.

The bill contemplates that the state will take over all of the 10,000 miles in the main systems of the intrastate communication and place them in usable condition through emergency maintenance and repair and thereafter become responsible for traffic conditions.

Roosevelt's Two "Red Rags."

Dr. John H. Richards, Colonel Roosevelt's physician during his last illness, writes in the Saturday Evening Post:

On my first visit to Oyster Bay it was considered necessary to take blood from Colonel Roosevelt's arm for a chemical examination. He insisted on standing while this was being done, in spite of the fact that his ankles were acutely inflamed at the time.

While the needle was being inserted he was joking with Doctor Swartz and Dr. W. Martin, who were in the room with us, and I fearing lest he should move his arm, thereby making another vein puncture necessary, said: "Please do not move your arm, so that I shall not misplace the needle."

"All right," he answered, "but don't anyone mention Wilson or the Kaiser."

The Lame Fiddler

By EDWARD LEVINE

"If only the lame fiddler could be here," sighed Madame Blivenne. "He swore that he would play at my wedding, child, as he played at mine!"

But the lame fiddler had been found dead in a snowdrift the winter before, and now he could not play at Antoine's wedding.

For years the lame fiddler had been a feature of the countryside. Antoine Forget was humpbacked, an ugly little man, with a dreamy face, and he played, divinely—all the old songs, "La Rose en Bois," and Malbrock's "Sen va-t'en Guerre," and "Alouette." No wedding was complete without Antoine.

They would send for him perhaps a hundred miles, driving him in sleighs or carriages. And it was considered lucky to have Antoine at the wedding; it insured happiness for the young people.

"Madame, I shall surely come for your child's wedding," Antoine had said.

And Antoine had died in a snowdrift the winter before.

He had played at Madame Blivenne's wedding. He had known her all her life, but she did not know who Antoine really was. No one knew that, except perhaps Madame Blivenne's father, old Simeon, who had sat for years in the chimney corner, paralyzed and incapable of speech—a huge hulk of a man, who had to be shifted by the strong hands of his grandsons, Hugose and Theophrastus, from chimney corner to bed, and back again.

Old Simeon was eighty-seven. He sat all day in a dream. If he knew what was going on, he gave no sign of it. He was dead in life, a great hulk of human flesh, no more.

Somewhere, far back in the past, Antoine Forget, the fiddler, and old Simeon had become bound together by some tie. What it was no one knew, though gossips said that there had been a love affair, years before, and that Simeon had won his young bride away from humpbacked Antoine, and that this had only cemented the bond between the two men. No matter. All that was past years before, and the things of the dead past belong only to those of the past.

So Antoine Forget would never play at Madame Blivenne's wedding, which was a pity, for she was marrying Pierre Dubois, a fine young man, with a share in a sailing schooner and a house already built in St. Dominique.

The absence of the lame fiddler cast a gloom over the wedding party. Young Hector Bray was doing his best with the fiddle, but who could play like Antoine? Nevertheless the merriment rose higher and higher. It was past midnight, the feast was over, the horses were champing impatiently at their bits outside. It was time to leave the young pair and say good-by.

All of a sudden a gloom, a silence seemed to strike the wedding party. They looked at one another. What had happened?

Ah, they knew! Antoine Forget always kept this last, his most pathetic piece, "La Belle Mouliniere," for the breakup of the wedding party.

"Tien!" whispered one guest to another. "I almost thought I saw lame Antoine pass the window!"

They stared outside into the dark. A fine snow had begun to drift down from the sky. They stared at one another.

And then an extraordinary thing happened. Old Simeon, in his corner, who had sat like an image all through the dancing, as if he were unconscious of what was happening, had risen and stood upon his feet, something that had not happened since his stroke, long years before.

What was he doing? Raising his arms, pointing to the fiddler, young Hector Bray, who stood with the violin under his arm.

Madame Blivenne uttered a scream and ran toward him, but he waved her away. And he was demanding the fiddle!

But he had never played the fiddle, so far as anyone could remember. Nevertheless, Hector Bray crossed the room and placed the instrument in the old man's hands. But when old Simeon put the end to his neck a gasp went up:

"It is lame Antoine!"

For those were the gestures of the dead fiddler. And that was how Antoine had played. And that was the magic of dead Antoine's music sweeping from the strings.

Of a sudden a couple began to dance, and soon the room was awash. They could not stop, for a sort of mania had seized them—not until the tune changed suddenly to "La Belle Mouliniere."

Old Simeon stood there, playing. They watched him, spellbound, till the last sound died away. And suddenly the fiddle fell from the nerveless hands. Old Simeon tottered like an oak, and fell face downward, dead.

Madame Blivenne looked up from beside him, crossing herself. "He told me he would come," she whispered.

Appealed to Feminine Vanity. Subtlety was disclosed by the manager of a New York tramway when he had a small mirror placed at each end of each car. Every woman passenger was caught by that mirror. It afforded an opportunity of correcting the angle of her hat, and of capturing errant locks of hair. To take advantage of the mirror she had to look the way the car was going, and at once the number of accidents decreased.

The county commissioners were engaged all day Monday hearing protests against the assessments made upon property owners along the line of the Lisbon-Columbiana rd, which is to be improved during the coming summer with an 18-foot pavement. ## COLUMBIANA HIGH TEAMS PLAY HERE

Flushed with their sensational victories over Wellsville, the Salem High basketball squads are in a fighting mood for their return game here Wednesday night with Columbiana High teams.

The Columbiana boys handed the Red and Black a severe jolt in the first game between the teams at Columbiana. Since that time both teams have improved considerably and a real battle is expected when they come together Wednesday night.

Salem's victory over Wellsville has given the boys' fine incentive to make a come back and wade through the remaining county teams on the schedule. Wellsville was expected to win handily and the Salem victory completely upset all previous expectations.

The girls' game will begin at 7:30 p. m. with the boys teams meeting immediately after.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

FARM CREDIT LAWS NOT MAIN NEED NOW

Harvard Professor Opens Series Of Forums At Farm Meet.

Columbus, Jan. 29.—Opening the first of a series of open forums on farm problems here this morning, T. N. Carver, professor of economics at Harvard university, took the view that national legislation along the lines of rural credits may relieve the situation in communities which have to attract loanable capital from distant sources; but will not meet the main need of the American farmer in general.

"In neighborhoods where there is enough money to supply all those farmers who can borrow to their own advantage," he said, "the need of any governmental agency is not very great. The farmer who cannot convince his neighbors that he is a good risk is not likely to convince a governmental agency."

Dr. Carver held further that, "Credit is of no advantage to a farmer unless he is either making money or showing signs of being able to make money in the near future. It is of no advantage to him unless he can use more capital so profitably as to yield him enough to pay the loan and leave him a surplus besides."

Columbus, Ohio.—"Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache) tablets are the best medicine I have ever taken for kidney disorders. My kidneys were congested and inactive, my back ached and was so sore I could not bear to touch it. In addition to my kidneys hurting, my bladder was very weak. I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice and upon his advice I took the Anuric Tablets and the result was wonderful. I had taken Anuric only a very short time when I was rid of all my bladder weakness and my kidneys became active and normal. I do not suffer any more with my back. I would advise those who suffer with any kidney disorder or bladder trouble to take 'Anuric' without delay."—Monford Slagle, 417 W. Rich St.

OBSERVE NATIONAL DRAMA WEEK WITH SPECIAL PROGRAMAddress By Rev. Miller Is
Feature Of Observance
At Salem Library.

An instructive address by Rev. H. L. Miller, pastor of the First Christian church, featured the observance of National Drama week at the Salem Public library during the week of Jan. 22-27, according to the report of week's activities by Miss Margaret Vinton, librarian.

Rev. Mr. Miller spoke on the development of the drama at a meeting Friday evening in the library when the building was opened to the public for this occasion.

Rev. Miller, in tracing the drama from its classical beginning, after its inception in religious festivals held in honor of the Greek gods, showed that in every country the drama of the day represented a supreme desire on the part of the nation as a whole, to forge ahead in accomplishment and in the acquiring of knowledge, and in so assuming responsibilities, becomes the field of action which forms a fertile soil for the production of lasting national drama.

He said in part: "Drama must be written for action, it must have in it the element of struggle, against such odds as the inevitable, great social, economic, or religious forces, man against man, etc. Drama grows naturally, as primitive man's belief in his gods, or his belief that the gods would grant his desires, expressed by him in religious ceremonials and mimicry before them, lives today, in our belief that 'Our Ideality is God's Reality'."

"When the struggle pits the element of action against the unsurmountable, tragedy results, and

Won $50,000 At Baccarat—And Quit

Mrs. Paul Murdock Eaton, wife.

Mrs. Paul Murdock Eaton of Wichita, Kan., sister of Victor Murdock, chairman of the Federal Trade commission, recently won $50,000 in one evening's play at baccarat, in Nice, France. Then she pocketed her winnings and left the casino, declaring she never intended to return to risk her small fortune again with Lady Luck.

When the struggle is against great odds, but possible to be overcome (such as complex social or political events), we have comedy. Farce is intense action against minor events, or trifling situations.

"The introduction to the drama began with the period preceding Aeschylus, developing with Sophocles as representative of the tragedians, and Aristophanes and Menander as comedians. Latin drama was merely a copy of the Greek, and then there was a dark period when the drama was totally eclipsed, to be revived by the Renaissance, and encouraged by the Reformation. Drama in its early beginnings in the European countries existed as the Mysteries, Mysteries and Moralities, developing into the Chronicle Plays. We have in Oberammergau the only survival of the Mystery play. This development gave to the European drama its stage, and scenery, something entirely unknown to the ancient drama, and particularly in England was attention given to scenic effects. Then Christopher Marlowe, by use of blank verse, gave the vehicle to expression, so the setting was made for a Shakespeare—the great dramatist.

"We can't only touch upon the development of the drama in Italy, Spain, France, England and the drama was bound to the Unities; Lessing, German writer and dramatist, broke traditional unities, and thus prepared the way for greater expression in the drama. In the 18th century, then, we find the drama wanting, and novel writing rising, until Europe was satisfied with French drama, and this drama became little more than a story acted. Scribe is the exponent of this form. Ibsen, Norwegian dramatist, emerging from the north, made, with his more rugged form of art, a moral contribution to the drama, and by his influence, quickened the vitality of the drama of the period.

"Today, in America, there is a movement afoot, to revive interest in, and improve, the drama, and this movement is sponsored by a few individual writers and dramatists, who are devotees of dramatic art, rather than of the commercial stage. Among a great many groups that are working for this revival of dramatic art, is the one known as the Little Theater, at Provincetown, Mass. This Little Theater has without doubt developed one of America's great dramatists, Eugene O'Neill who is of the school of realists, and is generally misunderstood, often unappreciated, and seldom liked, but a careful study of his drama shows the struggle of the day in which we are living, significant of industrial, and social conflicts.

"A strong national will, or spirit of determination to go forward, forms the background for a great national drama. We as a nation see that we have political systems which must be righted, religious differences which must be harmonized, industrial problems to be solved, racial barriers to be leveled. We have entered into international relationships that demand courageous and moral convictions. We see these problems, we are awake to them, here in America have we the desire, the dominant will power of a nation to set to work to right them? The stage is set—shall we enter this play of action and find solution, or attempt solution? Thus, America is, or will be, a rich field for a new drama; thus it seems that our realists, the novelist, the poet, the dramatist, are after all not so crude, as they are strong in showing us a cross section of a great national life.

Rev. Miller followed with a keen interpretative sketch of The Hairy Ape, probably the outstanding drama of Eugene O'Neill's today, and drew from its pages of bitter, ironical, stark tragedy, the lesson of a need for a deeper appreciation of our fellow men, a truer kinship of all of God's creatures who belong to him.

AND HE WAS ABOUT RIGHT

Little Newsboy Certainly Had Some Correct Ideas Concerning Success in Business.

The homely, freckle-faced little newsboy had not greeted the young woman who works in one of the downtown office buildings for several days. Instead she had had to explain to a serious looking little fellow which paper she preferred. Soon she began to realize how much the cheery smile and "How are you, miss?" had meant to her when served along with the latest edition.

Then one evening he was back at his corner and the young woman stopped to tell him how glad she was to see him again and that she hoped he was there to stay.

"Yes'm, guess I'm here to stay sure 'nough. That other one was my brother. I thought I could lend him this corner and sell papers myself at another, but the business can't run itself and he never was no business man."

The young woman smiled and said: "He is not very old, perhaps he will learn."

"Not him; he never will learn. Twice I have tried to set him up in business for himself and he can't make it go. Papers won't sell themselves. You've got to be happy if you want to sell papers. You can't be a grouch. He don't know the first thing about a good business man. He just can't smile."

The young woman demonstrated her own business ability with a smile, took her paper and hurried into the car. But she did not read the paper on her way home. She had other things to think of.

Little Interest in the Phone.

When the telephone was struggling for recognition 40 years ago it was the idea of Alexander Bell to popularize the instrument by showing it at public gatherings and incidentally, in this manner, to gather some coin to help defray the great expense which he was put to in the development of the instrument. Mrs. W. J. Coyle, now of Floral Park, Long Island, was living in Baltimore, Md., at that time and was engaged in preparing for a charity fair when she was approached by a friend who was also interested in the fair and he brought with him the inventor of the telephone who explained his scheme. The idea was to install instruments at the fair and at the Masonic temple a few squares away and to make a charge of ten cents at either end for the experience of conversing over the wire. The instrument created little interest and the proceeds were barely worth while.

FARMERS' DOLLAR
WORTH 68 CENTS

Farm Commodities Show
Gain Of 21 Per Cent
During 1922.

Columbus, Jan. 30.—The farmers' dollar is now worth 68 cents when it is interpreted on the basis of the average purchasing power of all farm products in terms of all other commodities using 1913 price basis as 100. This is the report just received by the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation from statisticians of the American Federation.

The figure above, according to the report, represents an increase in the value of the farmers' dollar of six cents from the lowest point, reached in December 1921.

"Farm commodities made a gain of 21 per cent in price during the year 1922," says the American Federation's report. "Food products, of which several are sold directly from the farm, advanced 6 per cent. All commodities, other than farm and food products, gained 16 per cent during the year. These facts are based on wholesale prices collected monthly on 490 items by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics."

Based on 1913 figures the report also states that on the basis of purchase prices equal to 100 in 1913, farm products are accorded the following value in purchase of all commodities: Corn 71, wheat 88, hay 74, potatoes 58, beef cattle 57, hogs 67, eggs 153, butter 99 and wool 128. In other words, one bushel of corn will buy 71 per cent as much of other commodities as it did in 1913, according to the report.

Mill Foreman Is

Stuebenville, Jan. 33.—Harry Hendricks, 42, Labelle Iron Works foreman, is in a critical condition suffering from knife wounds inflicted by Robert Brown, a mill employee. Brown is held awaiting the outcome of Hendricks' wounds.

The cutting occurred in the mill yards late Sunday following an argument. Brown is alleged to have drawn a knife and slit Hendricks' back from neck to waist, badly injuring the spine.

What does the cup supply for you?

Many people find harm to health in the seeming friendliness of coffee and tea. They first notice the unfriendly side of their table drink in sleeplessness and nerve-irritation—signs that health is being disturbed by the drug, caffeine, which these beverages contain.

It pays to face the facts when health is involved. It's a good plan to look for the cause of restless nights and nerve-fagged days.

Postum is a safe and satisfying mealtime drink for everybody. It meets every demand of taste, and it contains nothing which can disturb health. The children may safely share it with you—as many cups as desired, without risk of disagreeable after-effects.

There's charm without harm in Postum—the famous cereal beverage.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.
